Anna works at an ice cream shop. Every day she wakes up, brushes her teeth, gets dressed and goes to work. Anna does not have a car so she takes the bus to work. Her boss does not like that because she is always late. One time, Anna came to work and her boss told her that if she will be late again, she will lose her job. Anna did not want to lose her job so she found a solution. She started taking a different bus to work and she was always early.

In her free time, Anna likes to write. After work, she goes to the library and works on her books. A few years later, she became a famous author and her books were sold all around the world. She is now a full-time author but she likes to come and work on her books at the ice cream shop that she used to work at.
